OCC SHOOTOUT: Florida Museum of Photographic Arts

Meet at 1pm in Tampa

(400 N Ashley Dr, Tampa, FL 33602)

Join co-host, Mike Wacht, and me when we meet at the museum at 1pm followed by a docent tour of the facility at 2pm. Those that want to stay in Tampa longer can have a late afternoon meal then head out for an architectural shoot at University of Tampa or another nearby location. We will take a location consensus while at the museum.

We can caravan from the Marks Street Sr Center if there is any interest. You must contact Julie to make arrangements, otherwise we will meet at the museum. Either reply on the Facebook event page or send an email to: fieldtrips@orlandocameraclub.com

From FMoPA's website:

The FLORIDA MUSEUM of PHOTOGRAPHIC ARTS is a museum dedicated to exhibiting important photographic art as central to contemporary life and culture. FMoPA collects, preserves, and exhibits historic and contemporary works by nationally and internationally known photographic artists. FMoPA also enriches the community by operating outreach programs to educate children and adults.

Photography is ubiquitous in contemporary life and culture. The founders of the Florida Museum of Photographic Arts recognized this fact, so they sought to create a setting where visitors from all walks of life could appreciate and experience photography. As one of the few photography museums in the country, FMoPA presents exhibitions, which exclusively use this medium to explore themes that expose some intriguing or exciting aspect of history or modern, everyday life. This focus allows the museum to prominently feature pieces that other art institutions might not necessarily show, such as works of photojournalism or historic photographs.

In addition to scheduling upcoming exhibitions, FMoPA also includes a permanent collection. The collection aims to preserve particularly important images, such as those of various masters of the medium, including Harold Edgerton, Clyde Butcher, Hans Silvester, and Berenice Abbott.

JULY 30 @ 9:00 AM

OCC SHOOTOUT:

Saturday, July 30

Food Photography (9am-noon in the Oak Room at Marks Street Sr Center)

This will be a limited space, Members only, Shootout. Tickets will be available at the June and July OCC meetings @ $5 per person.

OCC's own, George Crudo, will co-host this Shootout on Food Photography.

George will give a presentation on Introductory Food Photography then members will rotate around the room shooting at natural light and flash stations. Each attendee will be responsible for creating a station. More information on what to bring will be emailed to ticket holders.

More about George:

George is a commercial food, real estate and architectural photographer based in Central Florida. Coming from a family of Italian immigrants George's love and passion for food and cooking began in his early teens. His love for photography also began at a very young age. When you combine the two, it's only natural that he would find a niche in food photography. George is currently represented internationally by agencies such as StockFood, Getty Images and Corbis.

His images are sold for use in cookbooks, restaurant menus, magazines and on the web. A few of his clients include Millers Ale House, Mr Green Tea Ice Cream and Sonoma Press. George also teaches an online class titled 'Food Photography Au Natural' for the Bryan Peterson School of Photography.

FINE Art GROUP

Sherri Bunye will present her upcoming exhibit, The Exits Less Traveled: "I don't set out to take pictures of something. Traveling the Interstate and wandering around back roads was how this project started and continues today. The Exits Less Traveled documents my explorations into cities and neighborhoods along Florida's longest Interstate, I-4. Following the Interstate as it weaves through Florida, I hope the images I produce inspires residents to take the exit less traveled and re-discover the beauty and charm of Florida."

Sherri's Bio: "I am a former Studio Artist at Crealde School of Art. As many artists, I have a passionate ideal for my own art; ultimately, I decided that I enjoy the freedom of working on my artistic vision for my images and have enjoyed the ability to exhibit my work while receiving commissions, grants, and private purchases.

Monday, June 13, 2016 5:30-6:20pm (Oak Room)
the FINE ART GROUP Presents:
Sherri Bunye, Fine Art Photographer

As a native Floridian, I am drawn to the topography of the area. My colorful Florida-scapes images were inspired from family car trips throughout the United States. While the images are artistic, I believe they are stronger for the documentary background. My passion for Florida-Scapes is balanced with my portraits and figure studies work, which fulfills my desire to photograph people. although this isn't a large part of my portfolio; It has been a valuable resource for experimenting and learning new techniques that allows all my photography to grow as my better work lays in my future." You can see more about Sherri on her website: <http://www.sherribunye.com/>

Monday, July 11

There will be no Fine Art presentation. We will be having a special speaker at our General Meeting, David Hume Kennerly - former White House photographer, and invite you to arrive early to socialize, check out the library offerings, and get help from the experts on your photography questions. This would be an excellent evening to bring a guest and introduce them to our club. Ballroom doors open 5:30pm and General Meeting begins at 6:30pm.

Just a reminder: BRING YOUR CAMERAS! The Marks Senior Center is open for us at 5:30, an hour before the main meeting starts. This is a perfect time to check out the library and socialize with other members. I have always been on site by 5:30 to do photo critiques, answer questions and just chat with whoever shows up.

BRING YOUR CAMERAS! I cannot emphasize this enough. One of the best ways to learn is by asking others with similar gear to yours about functions, tips etc. The club is more than the speakers and events we put on. It is all about the members and sharing information.

OCC PRESENTATION -

JULY 11, 2016

David Hume Kennerly

David Hume Kennerly has been photographing history for four decades. Contributing Editor for Newsweek Magazine, Kennerly continues to travel the globe to produce insightful images of important historic events.

Kennerly won the Pulitzer Prize for Feature Photography in 1972 for his remarkable photographs of the Vietnam war. After the war, Kennerly returned to the United States for Time Magazine, and in mid-1973 and threw himself into the domestic battles then raging in Washington. After Richard Nixon resigned, Kennerly was on the South Lawn of the White House as the soon-to-be ex-President departed. His historic photo of Nixon's wave goodbye, taken when Kennerly was just 27 years old, is one of the dozens of his images that have helped define American photojournalism.

Nixon's successor, President Gerald Ford, asked Kennerly to serve as his White House Photographer, a role that resulted in some of the most personal political pictures of his career. During Ford's tenure, Kennerly photographed world leaders including Emperor Hirohito in Japan, Leonid Brezhnev in the USSR, Franco in Spain, Ceausescu in Romania, Marcos in the Philippines, Tito in Yugoslavia, Suharto in Indonesia, Deng Xiao Ping in the People's Republic of China, and Queen Elizabeth during the bicentennial celebration at the White House.

2017 City of Orlando Historic Preservation Board Calendar

The City of Orlando Historic Preservation Board is seeking photographs for the 2017 Historic Preservation Board Calendar Contest. The 2017 Calendar theme is "Verticality in Architecture". The Historic Preservation Board is looking for people to capture the diverse vertical elements seen throughout Orlando's historic districts and landmarks in black and white pictures. The City of Orlando has produced the popular Historic Preservation Board Calendar since 1991 as a depiction of Orlando's treasured historic resources.

After over 25 years of the annual Calendar theme focusing on a specific area or architecture style, the 2017 Calendar encourages participating artists, historians, photographers, and historic preservationists to get creative and feature our historic resources from a new perspective.

Vertical elements are an important part of architecture. Verticality can create or dramatize scale, visual interest, and provide stylistic detail. Examples of vertical elements can be large such as a tower, turret, or column in a portico of a home. They can also be small details such as a spindle on a staircase, a doorway, or a thin window of a church. Verticality can define an entire building or a site element such as a gate, entryway, monument, or historic sign.

The Board encourages photographs that capture unique architectural details and the various uses of vertical elements. Photos may include a single structure or focus on an architectural element. All subject photos must be located in one of Orlando's Local Historic Districts, National Register of Historic Places Districts or be a designated Local Historic Landmark or Landmark Sign. These locations can be found at <http://www.cityoforlando.net/city-planning/historic-preservation/>.

The Winning Photos will be published in the 2017 Historic Preservation Board Calendar, and the photographer will earn $100 per selected photo and recognition by Mayor Dyer during a Presentation to City Council.
