Special Event

You are cordially invited to an exhibition of exceptional photography

The 2019 Fall Photography Exhibit

A collection of print photographs will be on display showcasing the eclectic, unique, and spectacular styles of the OCC members.

The exhibition is themed 'Photographers are my kind of people'.

We want to celebrate you, the photographer, by displaying up to three of your favorite 11x14 or 16 x 20 images to be shared with other members and your invited guests. You will have an opportunity to share the story behind your favorite photograph(s) and view the works of other photographers in a gallery walk setting.

Exhibitors will receive a mat board and gaffers tap to adhere to each print for display either on the wall or at a designated table within the center of the gallery.

All lovers of photography are invited to attend. This is a free event and complementary snacks & drinks will be provided. So let's kickoff the thanksgiving season by showing appreciation of our members and recognizing just how special photography means to us all.

For more information and to RSVP, please contact Lee Hepburn at education@orlandocameraclub.com

A ticket is required for all event attendees, even those age 2 and under. The Asian Lantern Festival is a separately ticketed event and is not included with regular Zoo admission. Tickets are $18.50 per person. Groups of 4 can go together at a discount of 4 tickets for $50. It is suggested that you buy your tickets in advance. The festival begins at 6pm and does not include regular daytime admission to the zoo (open 9am-5pm.)
